

The Midwest Clinic

An International Band and Orchestra Conference

Over 17,000 attendees represent all 50 states and more than 30 foreign countries at The Midwest Clinic. Music educators from this country and around the world involved with grade school, middle school, high school, college, military, adult, and professional groups all converge on Chicago once a year for this monumental conference. The music industry is also well-represented with music publishers, composers, instrument manufacturers, recording companies, stage equipment manufacturers, and uniform companies. Over 80 music colleges, universities, all military branches, music camps and every major music association also attend The Midwest Clinic.

Congratulations to the Buchholz High School Wind Symphony for having been selected to perform at the 68th Annual Midwest Clinic. A wonderful opportunity awaits you in Chicago!
